California's sheep flocks produced 23,250,000 pounds of wool this year, compared with 21,540,000 pounds last year, George A. Scott, livestock statistician for the Federal-State crop reporting service, announces. The year's clip averaged 7.5 pounds per sheep. California's clip was exceeded only by that of Texas with 35,591,000 pounds, Wyoming with 26,550,000 pounds and Montana with 25,370,000 pounds. The wool crop from 37,731,000 sheep in the United States totaled 296,114,000 pounds.

Cotton growers of California seem to be in a relatively good position to have a profitable year, according to the August 1 report of the California Co-Operative Crop Reporting Service. The forecast, as of that date, is 157,000 bales, which, if harvested, will be, by a considerable amount, the largest crop yet produced in this State. For the entire United States, the forecast crop is 14,291,000 bales, about 10 per cent greater than the ginnings of 1927.

The Pacific Fruit Express, which handles the perishable shipments going out from Imperial Valley, has officially closed its doors for this season, after handling 18,288 cars of cantaloupes, the peak year in the valley's history. Much of the later shipment was of honey dews or honey balls, but they go with the ordinary cantaloupe to make up what is known as the "cantaloupe season" there.

In preparation for the opening of the Tulare county fair at Tulare on September 18, a landscaping project at the exposition grounds has been completed and construction of a new ornamental gate is under way. Many parts of the grounds have been re-arranged to provide more room for exhibitors, and further space has also been provided for community and individual exhibits. The management is considering expansion of the present grounds to almost double their present size within the next two years.

Poultrymen of this State are now receiving only about 94 cents on the dollar for the eggs they produce, says the State Department of Agriculture. The other 6 cents represents loss incurred from production of dirty eggs during the rainy season or otherwise which cannot be shipped to distant markets and which if cleaned and offered locally only tend to depress local prices.

Activities of State dairy herd inspectors during June resulted in the elimination of 767 possible sources of human tuberculosis in California, according to Director Hecke. Inspectors found that number of tubercular cows and had them removed from the herds. The milk was being sold without pasteurization and the State's pure milk law requires that in such cases the herds be free of tubercular cows.

November will be a busy month for farmers' conventions, according to the State Department of Agriculture. The international live-stock show at Portland will be held November 3 to 10; California Farm Bureau convention dates are November 12 to 14; the sixty-first Farmers' and Fruit Growers' meeting will take place at Riverside November 19 to 21, and the Pacific dairy show will be held at Oakland, November 19 to 24.

Dehydration of grapes, an industry that will bring $800,000 into Stanislaus county within the next three months, has been started by the Boothe Fruit company at Keyes and Modesto.

Two additional men have been provided by the Regents of the University of California to assist G. E. Gordon, dairy specialist of the Agricultural Extension Service, in the dairy improvement campaign in the State. In the seven years of the campaign to date, nearly 65,000,000 of dollars have been added to the revenue of the farmers of California.

There are 2,500 acres in cotton in the Shafter district. Those who have looked this acreage over claim it is one of the best stands ever raised there. The plants look thrifty, sturdy and tall, and are covered with large bolls.

Grain growers of the San Joaquin Valley will hold their second annual convention at Corcoran on September 15. Specialists from the State Department of Agriculture and the State Universitiy Extension Service will be on the program.

Golden State
News of Interest to All

Following several months of debate as to whether the curricula of a teachers' college and of a university could be made to coincide with out detriment to either, the regents of the University of California decided affirmatively at their last meeting and voted to move the State Normal School at Los Angeles to the new university campus at Westwood Hills, in the summer of 1929.

Suits filed against the city of Los Angeles for loss of life and injuries suffered during the St. Francis Dam disaster of last March were brought to a total of almost $2,000,000 last week with the filing in Bakersfield of new damage complaints by Lillian L. Curtis, who lost her husband and two children in the flood, as well as suffering serious personal injuries.

Decision to start work on the new $2,00,000 International House financed by John D. Rockefeller Jr., on the Berkeley campus of the University of California in April, 1929, has been reached. The building will be ready for occupancy by 500 foreign and American students in August, 1930.

With the announcement it plans to establish a "super power system," the Benson Super-Power Corporation, $10,000,000 concern of Georgetown, Delaware, has entered the California field with the filing of incorporation papers at the office of the Secretary of State. Robert H. Fulton, of Los Angeles county, is named California agent and directors are given as W. H. T. Gaban, Redondo Beach, and C. W. Oliver and F. Lewis, both of England.

Eleven acres of land, the camp site of the Donner party of California pioneers at the edge of Donner Lake, together with a monument, erected in memory of the tragedy, have been turned over to the State of California by the Native Sons of the Golden West. A deed to the property, held by the organization, was handed to Assemblywoman Cora M. Woodbridge, who in turn gave it to Gov. Young.

Word was received at Alturas last week of the promotion of C. E. Rachford to the post of assistant forester of the United States. Rachford was born and reared in Modoc county, coming from an old pioneer family of that section. On the creation of the Modoc National Forest he entered the forest service as guard, serving successfully as ranger, deputy supervisor and forest supervisor. He was in charge of the Modoc National Forest in the latter capacity from 1909 till 1914, when he was placed in charge of the Santa Barbara National Forest, later serving as assistant district forester for several years in San Francisco. Rachford, in his new capacity, will have charge of grazing on the national forests of the United States.

J. L. Maddux, president of Maddux Airlines, Inc., has announced purchase of the Beacon Airways, Inc., which operates planes from San Francisco, Los Angeles and Fresno. The price was not made public. According to Maddux Fresno probably will be made the center of extensive aircraft activities in the San Joaquin Valley, adding that Grant DuBois, formerly general manager of the Beacon company, would become division manager at Fresno for the Maddux lines.

The new University of California ground school for aviators conducted by the United States Navy, has been demonstrated successful by the achievements of the first two classes to graduate from the course. The five students who took the advanced flight training this year at Sand Point with a class of fifteen from various places in the Twelfth Naval District, finished 1, 2, 3, 4, and 6, in rating.

A record breaking number of counties will have exhibits at the California State Fair, September 1 to 8. Last year, which was a record-beaking fair in this respect, had 34 county exhibits. DEAN WHITMAN, PROMINENT CAMPBELL BOOSTER, URGES DISTRICT PUBLICITY

BY C. H. WHITMAN

California is a magic word to most people who live east of the Rocky Mountains. A large portion of the residents of the Eastern and Central States have, no doubt, expressed the hope to see California and the Golden Gate. We have been led to believe that most of these people have very little knowlelge of the size of the State and little or no idea of its general topograhical divisions.

Sa nFrancisco, as the pioneer metropolis of the State, has consistently advertised California as a whole. Los Angeles has quite as naturally advertised Southern California. Other sections of the State have generally been content to advertise their own counties or valleys.

The State very naturally divides itself into six general sections. For the convenience of the numerous tourists who are coming all the year around to visit California we believe the time has come when we of the Central Coast counties should get a larger vision of our importance as a unit in this great State of the Golden West.

SOME OBSERVATIONS

Because so many of our own people have seemingly not realized the need of a larger scope in our advertising, and because we do live in a section so different from other parts of California, we are moved to make the following observations:

The Coast range of mountains running north and south divides the State longitudinally into the eastern and western grand divisions. Each of these divisions is by nature divided into three sections, making six in all. We may call these northeast, middle east and southeast; northwest, middle west and southwest.

The first three from north to south are:

1. Mountains, with sceneic parks, lakes and retreats.
2. Fertile valleys, producing fruits, rice, cotton, grain and hay.
3. Desert.

The Coast division is divided as follows:

1. The Redwood Empire.
2. The Central Coast counties.
3. Southern California.

The following eight counties comprise the Central Coast counties: San Francisco, San Mateo, Contra Costa, Alameda, Santa Clara, Santa Cruz, Monterey and San Benito.

TWO GREAT BAYS

This section includes two great bays of the Pacific Coast—the San Francisco and Monterey Bays. If the citizens of Santa Clara County would study the situation of San Jose with relation to the tourists who come to California and who should become familiar with the beauties of the Central Coast from bay to bay, there would at once develop a popular demand that this section be advertised as a distinctive part of the State.

When the tourist contemplates visiting California there are generally a few outstanding points of interest in his mind. He may want to see the great Pacific Ocean, the Golden Gate, Yosemite, Lake Tahoe, Los Angeles and Long Beach

The county immediately south of San Francisco is too often neglected, because it is so close to that city that those who travel by rail are either just eating breakfast going to San Francisco or have just retired for the night going south. In either case the Central Coast is unknown to them. We realize that the scenic drives and attractions of these eight counties cannot be duplicated in the State. We who live in this charming section know that the person who returns to the East without seeing what the Central Coast counties have to offer has missed seeing the finest part of the State.

SAN JOAQUIN SCHEME

Seven counties in the San Joaquin Valley have recently joined forces in putting over a scheme which will advertise their common attractions and advantages.

California is camparatively a new State. Its undeveloped resources are awaiting new enterprises, new energies and new capital.

The particular mission of those of us who live in these eight Central Coast counties is to let our would-be visitors know that we have a distinctive section, name its attractions and inform them how they may see it all for themselves.

A small pocket map, showing a continuous highway south from San Francisco and Oakland to Monterey and Pacific Grove, with all the paved roads running to the various points of interest; then the continued highway to Salinas, Hollister, Merced, Yosemite and Lake Tahoe, would be of great value. Sacramento would be reached either by coming into or leaving the State. While these last named cities and resorts are not in our Coast counties, the map would show our tie-in with these great resorts.

Let us get the larger vision and show the other counties we are willing to co-operate with them for the good of all.

SANTA CLARA DAY AT SACRAMENTO FAIR

This year Santa Clara county has an exceptionally fine exhibit and no doubt will romp away with many first prizes in the classes in which she has entered. A huge frieght car transported the exhibit to Sacramento last Monday and it required considerable figuring by expert freight men to crowd all of the exhibit into a shingle car. There will be fruits—fresh, dried and canned—flowers and shrubs, nuts, cheese seeds and garlic on display in an attractively arranged booth. Dr. W. I. Wilcox of Santa Clara and Russell Pettit of San Jose, have worked incessently for the past two months combing the county for its prize winning products and have succeeded in collect a most representative display.

Four ladies will be in attendance daily at the fair to explain any and all details of the exhibit and to distribute the prune and pear reciepts and advertising matter of this productive valley.

Santa Clara County Consolidated is sponsoring the Santa Clara County Day on September 6 and is asking all who are planning to attend the State Fair to do so on that date that it may be a gala affair. There will be special features for the entertainment of Santa Clara county guests and free distribution of prunes.

MRS. HOAG INJURED IN AUTO CRASH

Mrs. A. Y. Hoag was quite painfully injured yesterday from an auto on South First street. J. B. Wagner carying her to work in his auto was struck on the front left side by another auto with such force as to hurl Mrs. Hoag clear of the car. The Wagner car was badly damaged and thrown against a tree. The other car is owned by S. Labrovich of Sunnyvale and both cars were carrying workers to local canneries, but no one else was injured.

Dr. Anderson was called and reported that Mrs. oHag sustained a broken nose and badly bruised hand.

MISS MAHAN RESIGNS

The resignation of Miss Louise Mahan as organist and choir leader for the Congregational Church has been very regretfully accepted by the church. Owing to her increasingly heavy responsibilities as assistant librarian at Palo Alto, no other alternative was possible. Her three years' service has been a time of happy progress for the choir and Miss Mahan has indeed won a place in the hearts of all who know her, not only because of her talented leadership, but also because of her genial and steadfast personality.

The sincere wishes of a very large number of friends will follow her and we are glad to know that whenever possible she will worship with us.

The music committee, Dr. W. I. Merrill, Mrs. H. S. Young and Mr. W. H. Stray are very happy in receiving the acceptance of Mrs W. H. Crothers to fill the vacany. Both her past experience as well as the esteem felt for her, give full hope that Miss Mahan's constructive service will be carried on.

APPRECIATION

I desire to express my appreciation for the vote given me for State Senator, and to again pledge my loyalty to the welfare of the individual, the district, the county and the State that I have the honor to serve.

— Sanborn Young.

GRANGERS DISCUSS FARM PROBLEMS

Quite a large delegation from Mountain View Grange was in attendance at Orchard City Grange Tuesday evening.

Mr. Hedegard reported a petition signed by most of the residents on the cross road east of the creek, naming it North Union avenue, was being presented to the Board of Supervisors and the name would no doubt be accepted.

Mr. Keesling and Mr. Harms spoke on planting hardy garden seeds and bulbs. Now is the best time to plant the early spring flowering bulbs such as marcissus or daffodils, tulips, mutbretia, snowdrops, tritomas, hyacinths, anemones, begonias, freesias, ranunculus, Watsonias, spiraxas, lilies and so forth. Iris may be planted almost any time of the year with success. The Iris club is working to have iris adopted as a national flower. There are many beautiful colors and forms of iris and they can be grown anywhere and require but little water and almost no care when once planted. The Japanese iris, however, are an exception requiring a moist soil, but they easily repay a little extra care. Sweet peas and garden peas should also be planted soon, later plantings to follow are lettuce and spinach which should be put in now for winter use. Roses should be thinned out and cut back. Plenty of water will bring the perpetual bloomers in flower for fall and winter use.

Mr. Copeland reported that prunes were cracking some, especially on young trees and not so sweet as usual. He advised those who have not sold to hold on, as he thought prices would be somewhat better. Irrigating as soon as possible after crop was harvested would insure better crops next year and the same was true of the apricot crop.

The price of dried 'cots was tending upwards.

The poultry committee reported a new remedy for lice which was to paint the top of the roosts with a light coat of "Black Leaf 40" the fumes of which would kill all the lice on chickens without harming them. This should be repeated in 10 days to get the newly hatched nits. In the lecturer's hour, Mr. Whitman from the chamber of commerce, gave a short historical sketch of its work under several different names, since 1901.

Mr. Hedegard talked on the object and beneficient work of the Kiwanis and Mrs. I. W. Merrill gave a very interesting and instructive address on the Parent-Teachers' Association. All of which was highly appreciated by the audience.

Mrs. Toller recited Will Carlton's "District School," in a most pleasing manner.

It was announced that the next Pomona Grange would be Saturday, October 6, at Aromas.

25TH ANNIVERSARY

A cousins' party was held at Heartease, the summer cottage of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hart, at Round Lake, Anoka, Minn., Aug. 14, the event being the 25th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Purmort, of Campbell, Calif. The honor guests were the recipients of a very nice gift of table silver. Mr. and Mrs. Purmort expected to leave last Thursday for home, visiting Yellowstone Park and Crater Lake.

A Purmort family gathering was held at the Frank Hart cottage at Round Lake, Anoka, Minn. in honor of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Purmort of Campbell, Calif., who are spending the summer in the East. The party of 31 were all children, grandchildren, and great grand-children of A. D. Purmort father of A. A. and M. E. Purmort and who formerly made his home in Campbell.

Shade Trees for Roads

Under a law passed by Congress at its last session California can use some of the money appropriated by Uncle Sam for goods roads for planting trees along the highways. In other words, Uncle Sam recognizes the value of shade trees to our highways, and it is hoped that California will increase this tree fund. Our State highways and also our county highways are wonderful, but we can make them more wonderful. Roads running through our flat lands like the Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys shaded if we wish. How much more pleasant traveling would be if we could roll along under an arch made by nature. Our Superivsors here in this county could spend money for worse things than a "system of shade trees." Trees don't grow in a day so we should plant now if the present generation is to enjoy their cool and refreshing shade.

Our Holidays Change

Next Monday will be Labor Day. Labor used to take this day seriously. Labor, in gay colors, marched through the principal streets to make an impression on the employers and then adjourned to some public square or park and listened to leaders orate on the achievements and dignity of labor. Now labor jumps in a machine and goes to the beach for a breath of salt air or into the mountains, thereby leaving its orators without joos. The character of Labor Day has changed, just as our Fourth of July has. No more canons roaring at sun rise, no more patriotic orations, no more singing of the Star Spangled Banner by the crowd. Fourth of July is a day of rest and recreation. And are not pretty much all of our holidays this.

Commuting to New York

Art Goebel's new non-stop record of 18 hours and 56 minutes across the continent gives us something to think about. It makes California a next door neighbor of New York. Faster machines will reduce this time, and perhaps the time is dawning when NewYorkers will be commuting to the Coast for their week-ends, instead of going into Maine as they now do. In this age of science and invention all things are possible. The California Development Association has an interesting poster in its exhibition windows at the Ferry Building, San Francisco, showing what has been done to reduce travel time, from Coast to Coast, during the past 80 years. The artist pictures a pony express, auto stage, train and airship leaving the Ferry Building at the same time and traveling for 24 hours toward New York. What are their respective positions at the end of the day's journey. On this poster the airship reaches Cleveland, a distance of 2244 miles; the train is at Ogden, 635 miles, the auto stage at Oasis, Nevada, 495 miles, and the stage coach pony express only reaches Sacramento in 24 hours. Now Goebel's flight brings New York even closer to California than that indicated on the poster.

Herbert Hoover has gone East to carry the fight into the enemy's country and now Al Smith will pack his grip and start West to carry the fight ditto.

Cancelled Checks Keep Own Records

IT is the unvarying practice in the business world to pay bills by check. Cancelled checks are indisputable records of completed transactions. Nowadays it is just as important that housewives employ the same methods in managing household accounts. Free Carries Both Tickets In Campbell

Election day was a rather quiet affair less than half of the voters expressing a choice at the polls.

The contest of most interest was that for Congress and Congressman Free carried both tickets over his competitor. In the Republican choice, Mr. Free received 222 votes to Mrs. Casserly's 10, in the Democratic column he received 19 to 10. Judging from this vote Mr. Free will have little opposition fall. Senator Johnson received 197 to Randall 36. The Senator is conceded as good as elected.

State Senator Sanborn Young eceived a pleasing complimentary vote from his host of friends here, who gave him 218 votes, T. M. Wright duplicating the count.

Payne Pears Are Shipped To Europe

The Payne ranch of Payne avenue is a veritable beehive these days what with fresh fruit and prune drying.

The ranch will pack and ship about seven cars of choice Bier pears to Europe, English trade being the favored people for this variety.

A motor driven washer and drier is kept busy giving this fruit the required cleansing before it's wrapped and packed. Several sizes are packed varying from 90 to 180 to the box of 44 pounds. These boxes of fruit are pre-cooled at the Mountain View plant to retard the ripening process until the fruit reaches the European markets.

As this fruit is the choice, the concern has some very fine pears to sell local buyers.

As part of the acreage is still in young trees and other trees are not yet bearing, this product of the ranch is on a steady increase.

The packing is done by Chinese who are very fast and efficient and the scene is an interesting one to the visitor.

Boy Scouts

The Scouting outlook for Campbell is bright for the coming session. Owing to the splendid support of the Kiwanis Club and also the help of the Community Chest, the heavier expenses will be taken care of.

Rev. J. H. Bennett, Scoutmaster, is anxious for the moral support of all parents in this work. No military emphasis is given, but moral and disciplinary, as well as instructional and recreational guidance. Mr. Bennett is urgently in need of men for help with the Scouts.

The Cub Scouts will continue to be under the popular leadership of Cecil Cutting and the Sea Scouts under Mr. Worthin Grattan. A commencement will be made very soon now.

Internal Injuries Prove Fatal

Mrs. B. Ledgett, who had been head forelady at the California Cannery for several years and who was very seriously injured several weeks ago when her clothing caught in a belt, passed away at the San Jose hospital Tuesday morning.

At no time since the accident had her condition been quite satisfactory, although at first she was reported as somewhat improved but for some time her friends and relatives were gravely concerned and her death, although a shock was not entirely unanticipated.

Sincere sympathy is extended her family and near friends.

Gerbrandt-Weins

A. J. Gerbrandt and Aanna L. Weins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Weins of Reedley were married Tuesday, August 21 in that city.

Rev. Frank Wiens, a missionary home from China, performed the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerbrandt are making their home temporarily at the N. Carson home on N. Third street.

Telephone service, a public trust

THE widespread ownership of the Bell Telephone System places an obligation on its management to guard the savings of its hundreds of thousands of stockholders.

Its responsibility for so large a part of the country's telephone service imposes an obligation that the service shall always be adequate, dependable and satisfactory to the user.

The only sound policy that will meet these obligations is to continue to furnish the best possible service at the lowest cost consistent with financial safety.

There is then in the Bell System no incentive to earn speculative or large profits. Earnings must be sufficient to assure the best possible service and the financial integrity of the business. Anything in excess of these requirements goes toward extending the service or keeping down the rates.

This is fundamental in the policy of the company.

The Bell System's ideal is the same as that of the public it serves—the most telephone service and the best, at the least cost to the user. It accepts its responsibility for a nation-wide telephone service as a public trust.

Sells-Floto Circus Promises Rare Treat

The time-honored custom has always been to refer to each successive year's circus as bigger and better than ever, but the phrase has been so hackneyed that this year Sells Floto hesitate to use it, despite the entertainment. There is material enough in this year's circus to make a dozen circuses of the old days.

Hundreds of horses, camels, elephants, sacred cattle, richly accoutred, are utilized in the program.

The subsequent three-hour arenic performance which Sells Floto give, breaks all records of the past. Every one of the 500 participants is a champion in his line. The exhibit of freaks is larger than ever before and the menagerie has been augmented.

Three herds of elphants open the circus tournament presented by Sells Floto Circus, introducing lady elephant trainers, Effie Rariden, Irene Ledget and Bobby Cornett.

Then a ceaseless procession of athletic specialists fills rings, rigging, platforms and hippodrome oval. There are riders of note in the circus world, which include George Hanneford and the riding Hannefords, Irene Ledgett, the fashion plate of the white tops; Bert Sloan, the acme of perfection in the art of tight wire performance; Cecil Lewandi, Monna Connors, whose wonderful feats in horsemanship have never been equalled. Marvelous iron jaw act by Dora Lawrence, Kimball sisters; Anita Lamar, and King sisters in their wonderful exhibition in the high dome of the canvas, displaying evolutions in mid-air which has no equal in all the realms of the circus. The ten Tengers Arabs and other well known athletes in astonishing innovations; Sells Floto famous menagerie act, wonderful Kentucky thoroughbred equines ridden by 50 ladies and gentlemen; The Fisher Sullivan troupe, the flying Wards, Emma Ward, world's champion lady aerial gymnast hanging by one hand from a suspended rope, this little lady casts her body over her own shoulder as many as 125 times without a pause; Peter Taylor, king of wild animal trainers, will present for the first time in circus history a collection of Siberia and Bengal tigers and African lions. The active participants in arena exploits number 500, and clowns, a bunch of them right up to the minute to delight the kiddies.

Sells Floto promise a rare treat in their menagerie, 53 cages of rare wild animals, five herds of elephants, three herds of camels, a two-ton hippopotamus and a Pygmy hippo of which there are only two in America, one with Sells Floto circus the other with Bronx Zoo in New York City, arranged so the public may view the marvels of forest and jungle.

Bridge Luncheon

Last week the two visitors were the motif of a charming bridge luncheon given by their sister, Mrs. Merlin Bohnett and Mrs. Lawrence Neville, at the latter's home in San Jose.

The rooms were lovely with daintily arranged bowls of sweet peas, asters and dahlias, and luncheon was served on small tables successfully carrying out a color scheme of rose and green.

The guests included groups of friends from Campbell, San Jose and Gilroy, and Mrs. H. W. Lillingston of Orland, mother-in-law of Mrs. Howard Lillingston.

Schools Open Sept. 17

The Campbell schools, both high school and grammar, will open Monday, September 17. It is very desirable that all children be present on the opening day, particularly in the high school where new subjects are always taken up. Parents should plan work and vacations so that their children will not be handicapped by a belated entrance.

California's methods for handling pest control, standarization and grading and packing and handling of fruits and other farm products were studied at Sacramento last week by R. S. Sampson and C. G. Latham, representatives of the Australian government. They have been on a world tour investigating agricultural methods, and will report to their government upon their return. Latham looks after the grain study and Sampson the horticultural work. Their study in California was made through the Department of Agriculture.

J. A. Steward, sales manager for the Mutual Orange Distributors, stated recently that the organization had about 1140 cars of citrus fruits yet to be shipped from the package houses in various parts of Southern California, about 1100 cars being of Valencia oranges and the remaining forty of grapefruit. It is reported that the Valencias are bringing top prices and the grapefruit would probably command a good market.
